

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

Reconsideration of this application is respectfully requested.

The rejection of claims 3, 8 and 11 under 35 U.S.C. §112, first paragraph, based on alleged failure to disclose how a port bitmask is determined to be "provisional" is respectfully traversed.

The adjective "provisional" is a commonly used and well understood word in the English language. Attached are definitions from Merriam-Webster OnLine and from Dictionary.com explaining the common meaning of such an adjective as "serving for the time being, temporary" or "provided for a temporary need: suitable for acceptance in the existing situation but subject to change or nullification", etc.

While the word "provisional" was not used in the originally filed specification, description of the "initial" port bitmask and the fact that it is subject to being changed subsequently, etc. clearly is present (e.g., see page 18, line 6 of the specification).

Accordingly, in an attempt to simply obviate this alleged informality, the claims have now been amended above so as to use the word "initial" rather than "provisional".

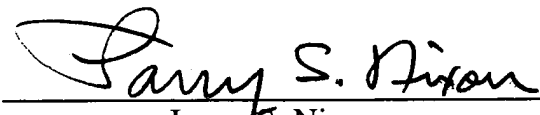

Claim 8 has been further amended above so as to provide a minor clarification.

O'CALLAGHAN et al.
Appl. No. 09/818,670
January 20, 2006

There being no other outstanding ground of rejection, it is believed that this entire application is now in condition for allowance and a formal Notice to that effect is respectfully solicited.

Respectfully submitted,

NIXON & VANDERHYE P.C.
